ANZAC CRICKET CHALLENGE & SPRING PICNIC

Police Training College, Aberdeen • ANZAC Day, Sunday 25th April 2010 • 1 – 5 pm

What could be more antipodean than a family picnic/bbq on the grass watching Kiwis and Aussies playing cricket? Well, the NZSHK and the Australian Association of Hong Kong are joining forces to bring you a fun filled ANZAC Day at the Police Training College in Aberdeen (entrance opposite Ocean Park) where you can have all this and more!

There will be a sausage sizzle and other refreshments on sale on the day but you can choose to bring your own picnic or cook your own bbq on one of 8 charcoal bbq pits. Not wanting to forget the smaller/younger ones amongst us, there will be some great activities for kids of all ages to enjoy.

The format of the cricket is not yet finalised – we'll play a multi-team 6-a-side format or a Twenty20 match depending on the number of people wanting to play. If you are interested in playing cricket (men, women, kids can all play), please register now so we can plan for the best format.
